BROOKHART'S VICTORY IS SURPRISING

HITS THE ADMINISTRATION FOURTH SUPPORTER GETS AXE

A Real Blow Has Struck the Grand Old Party, By the Defeat of Senator Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa, By Smith Brookhart--The Zebra Stripe of Republicanism Seems To Be In Favor With the Public--The Control of the Next Senate Seems Impossible Is Belief, As Vote Will Sway Other States--The Ghost of La Follette Is Hanging Around the Polls.

For his Democratic opponent is elected next November. He cannot rely upon the vote of either in the trying closing period of his administration. What the future holds for the administration in so far as the control of the next senate is concerned cannot be forecast with any degree of accuracy, but it can be said that the regular Republican majority will be smaller after November than it has been in the last two years.

FELLOWSHIP MEMORIAL TO A PROFESSOR

Senator Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa, Republican patriarch of the senate, has gone the way of Senators William B. McKinley, of Illinois; George Wharton Pepper, of Pennsylvania, and Robert N. Stanford, of Oregon.

Unofficial returns from the Iowa Republican senatorial primary election conducted Tuesday indicate the nomination of his leading opponent, former Senator Smith W. Brookhart, by a decisive plurality.

For the fourth successive time, an administration senator has been forced to lower his colors in a contest for renomination. This time the winner is a rank party insurgent, who was read out of the party a year ago and subsequently unseated by a combination of administration Republican and Democratic votes, as the result of an election contest brought by his Democratic opponent in 1924, Senator Daniel F. Steck.

From whatever angle the election is viewed, the result is a bitter blow to the Coolidge administration. There is a tendency in many quarters to exaggerate the importance of these senatorial contests in an off year, but such a charge cannot be made in this particular instance.

This time a real blow was struck at the Coolidge administration. In the preceding election it was necessary to resort to analysis and to delve a bit in the realm of conjecture and prophecy to show wherein the administration at Washington had suffered by the substitution of one Republican for another.

This time the facts speak for themselves. In the first place the defeat of Senator Cummins deprives President Coolidge of a supporter in the next senate, regardless of the outcome in Iowa next November.

Senator Cummins' successor necessarily will be an anti-Coolidge Republican or a Democrat. This situation is all the more acute because of the uncertain complexion of the next senate under the most favorable circumstances. It almost makes administration control of the next senate impossible of attainment.

The nomination of Brookhart is far more embarrassing to the administration than the results in Pennsylvania, Illinois and Oregon. In these three states regular Republicans were nominated to succeed the incumbents.

Their election will mean no chance in the political complexion of the senate so far as these states are concerned. But it makes little difference to President Coolidge whether Brookhart

FUNERAL OF MRS. HALL.

Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph Hall were conducted by Rev. W. C. Hickey, pastor of the West Park Methodist Episcopal church, at Schoedinger's chapel, East State street, Columbus, at 2 p. m. Saturday, May 29. Interment was in Forest cemetery, this city.

Pessimistic View

There is only one north pole, but there are enough lecture platforms for all the explorers now in the Arctic.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Columbus, Ohio, June 9, (UP)—A gift of $12,500 to establish a fellowship in memory of Professor Nathaniel Lord, first dean of the college of engineering, was announced here at Ohio State university. The donor is William B. Collins, of Ardmore, Pennsylvania, an alumnus of the class of 1899.

An income of $750, from the fellowship will be available each year to a promising graduate student for advanced work. Details of the award remain to be worked out but it is probable that the fellowship will be offered in some phases of engineering.

Professor Lord, for 32 years a member of Ohio State's faculty, was one of the outstanding engineers of his day. He was nationally known as a mining and metallurgical engineer, and was the head of his kind in chemical and sanitary and agricultural engineering.

WON BEAUTY CROWN

Miss Catherine Moylan, "Miss Dallas," is the possessor of the title "Beauty Queen of the Universe," scoring first place in competition with thirty-nine picked beauties in the First International Pageant of Purity and Seventh Annual Bathing Girl revue, held at Galveston, Texas.

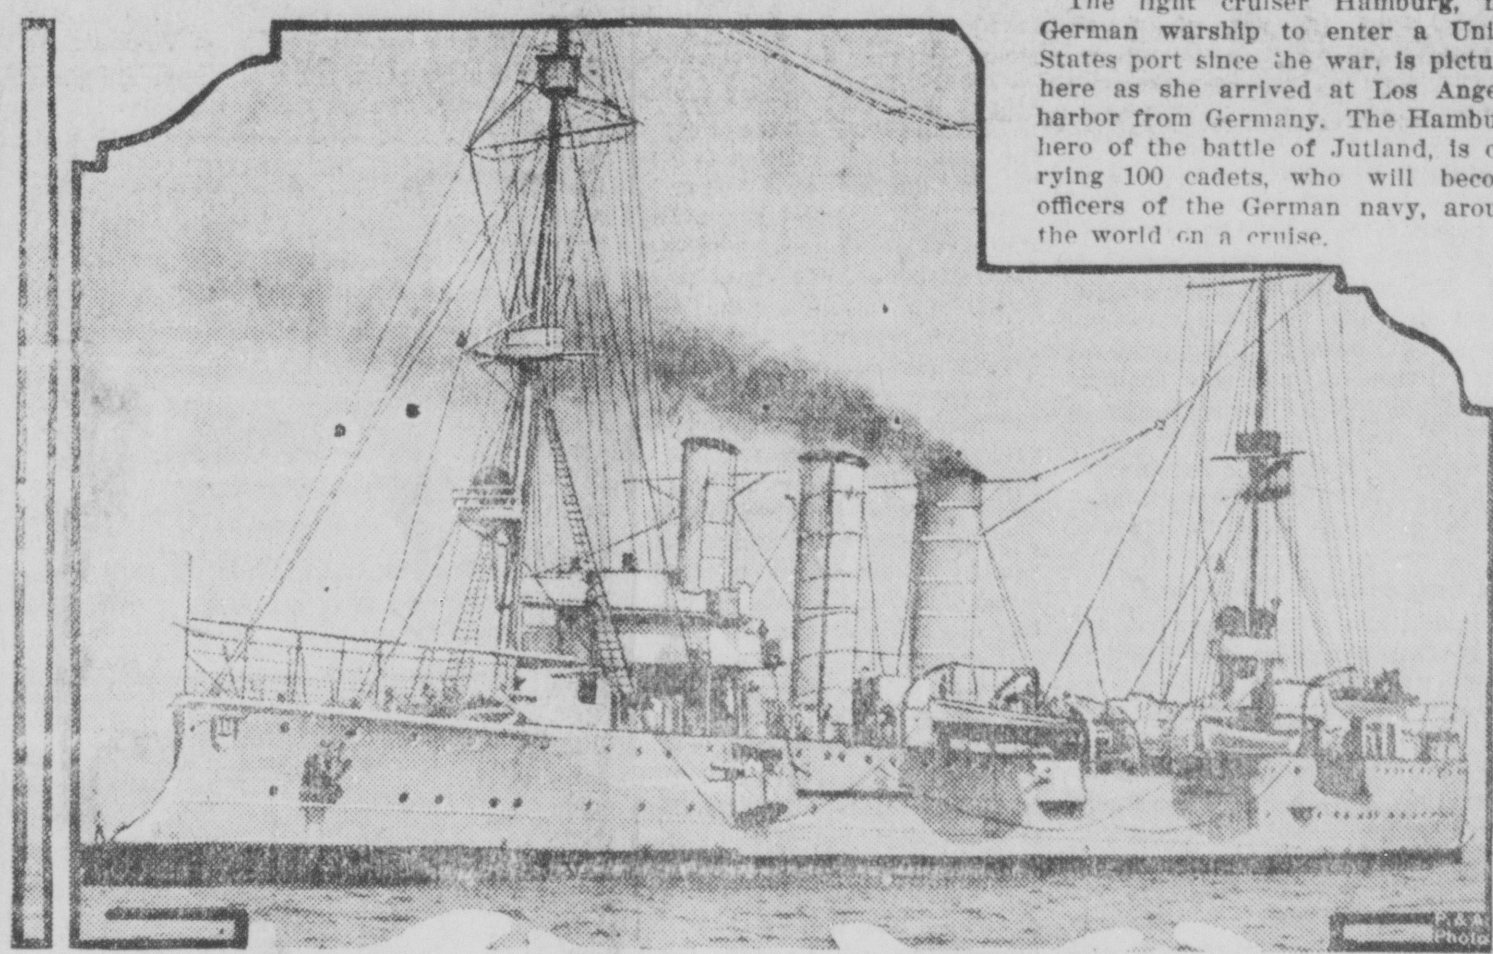

KNIGHTS-TEMPLAR DRILL.

The parade and drill of all the commanderies Knights-Templar of this district will be held this evening near the intersection of Main and Court streets at 7 o'clock, Daylight Savings time.

BROKE ARM.

Russell Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ward, of East Union street, fell from an improvised swing Tuesday afternoon and sustained a fracture of both bones in the middle forearm. Dr. Allen reduced the fracture.

German Warship Visits Los Angeles Harbor

The light cruiser Hamburg, first German warship to enter a United States port since the war, is pictured here as she arrived at Los Angeles harbor from Germany. The Hamburg, hero of the battle of Jutland, is carrying 100 cadets, who will become officers of the German navy, around the world on a cruise.

JUDGE JONES IS SEEKING REELECTION

Served Fourteen Years in This Circuit Before Going on Supreme Bench.

Judge Thomas A. Jones, of Jackson county, and now a member of the supreme court has announced his candidacy for reelection to that branch.

His declaration of candidacy is signed by Judges Mauck, Middleton and Sayre of the Fourth Judicial circuit, and also by his wife, who was formerly Grace Hoyt, of Athens, and by his two sons, who are practicing lawyers in the city of Cleveland. Both sons served in the World war.

Judge Jones served as an appellate judge in the 15 counties of Southern Ohio for 14 years and included in this circuit is Pickaway county. The lawyers and many of the residents of these counties have known him for a great number of years. His service on that bench won the active support of nearly every lawyer in those 15 counties, regardless of party.

He is now a candidate for reelection to the supreme court bench and is again supported generally by the lawyers of the state, among whom are many judges and lawyers of Democratic persuasion.

Before his elevation to the supreme bench he served on the circuit with Judges, Sibley, of Marietta; Cherrington, of Ironton; Walters, of Circleville and Sayre, of Athens.

Judge Jones is a Presbyterian and is affiliated with the various Masonic bodies.

There being two vacancies to fill, Judge Jones and Judge Matthias are both candidates for reelection to succeed themselves.

Judge Jones is the only member of the supreme court residing south of Columbus. Why should not southern Ohio be represented on this high court?

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Canter, of Pickaway township, had as their dinner guests Sunday Misses Irene and Mae Canter, of Circleville, and Miss Alice E. English, of Columbus.

Misses Bertha and Mary Allen, of New York City, are guests of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Allen. They came to attend the wedding of their cousin, Miss Nellie Allen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Allen, who will be married to H. B. Adams, of Chicago, Illinois, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church at Logan. Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Allen will also attend the marriage of their niece.

LAW STUDENT GRADUATES.

Frederick R. Place Jr., a former resident, graduates from the law department of the O. S. U. this evening. His parents formerly made their home here with Mrs. Carrie Patton, on West Mound street. The young man was a frequent guest of Foster Weldon, when the latter lived here. Mr. Place is a member of the Humboldt lodge of Masons of Columbus and has accepted a position in the legal department of the Guarantee Title & Trust company in Columbus.

RESIGNS POSITION.

Professor Donald H. Watt has resigned his position as principal of the Jackson high school and is now enrolled in the Graduate School of the summer session of Columbia university, New York City.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires
By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Cincinnati — Refusal of the United States supreme court to review the case of George Remus, Cincinnati bootleg king convicted of violating the prohibition laws and sentenced to one year in the Montgomery county jail, will be appealed directly to President Coolidge.

Lisbon — George Anderson, former Kenyon college football star, must serve an indeterminate term in the state penitentiary for the slaying of Frank R. McLain, 27, of East Liver pool.

Springfield — The Rev. Dr. Benjamin Seigler, of Findlay, again will head the board of directors of Wittenberg college. Dr. Seigler was re-elected late yesterday. Other officers named were Dr. Francis Seiberling, Akron, vice president; Rev. E. G. Howard, Springfield, secretary.

Columbus — Three unusually large death awards have been announced by the state industrial commission. They were: $6500 to the widow and nine children of Clarence Seymour, an employee of the Ohio Poultry Producers' association, killed at Wauseon; $6500 to the widow of Asbury Brooks, employee of the Seton Realty company, who was killed in performance of his duties; $5824 to the widow and minor children of Sam Fleim of the Wolf Lanning Clay company, Dennison, killed while preparing a charge of dynamite.

Columbus — The city of Gallipolis has lost its fight to issue $75,000 in bonds to defray the cost of constructing a new municipal power plant. The supreme court has overruled an appeal of the city from the lower courts of Gallia county which issued an injunction restraining the city from issuing the bonds. The project was opposed by the Ohio utilities company which contended the bonds would be illegal.

Cincinnati — A coroner's jury convened here today to investigate the death of Sarah Judd, 12, who choked to death yesterday while sitting in class room at school. The girl recently underwent an operation in which surgeons inserted a silver tube in her throat. Physicians who examined her said that apparently the tube slipped, cutting off the girl's breathing.

AIRMAIL PILOT W. D. WILLIAMS DROPS TO EARTH

Airplane Crashes at Cleveland Airport This Morning.

Cleveland, O., June 9, (UP) — Warren D. Williams, Cleveland to Chicago airmail pilot, was seriously injured when his plane crashed near the Cleveland airport today.

Williams was removed to Lakewood hospital. Physicians said he has a good chance for recovery.

The crash occurred shortly after Williams hopped off for Chicago. Apparently his motor stalled.

As the plane fell Williams turned his emergency flares on the landing field and attempted to land. The craft refused to respond, however, and plunged into a tail spin.

Williams has been in the air mail service six years.

TO GRADUATE IN COLUMBUS.

Alice E. English, daughter of W. B. English, of this city, is one of the graduates of South High in Columbus, June 16. She has the honor of completing her high school course in three years. Mrs. Albert Canter, a sister of the graduate, and daughter, Alice Joyce, of Pickaway township, will go to Columbus Sunday and remain for the graduation exercises.

GRUESOME CRIME.

Campbell, Ohio, June 9, (UP)—The gruesome crime of being compelled to shake hands with a suicide and curl the corpse mustache, under the glare of electric lights is worth $25,000 to Robert Hawkins, 26, colored.

Hawkins had filed suit for that amount against Martin Hines and George Novic, ex-officers, who were discharged on charges of scaring Hawkins in the prankish venture. The mental anguish suffered by his experience has unnerved him, Hawkins maintains.

Baby Jaguar Added to Gov. Al Smith's Zoo

This baby jaguar arrived in Albany, N. Y., as a gift from the Astoria Tammany club, of which some members made the presentation. "Get a little closer," urged the cameraman, but Gov. Al Smith exclaimed, "Not on your life." The twelve-week-old cub was added to the governor's zoo back of the mansion.

TRIPLE ANNIVERSARIES.

The birthday anniversaries of three members of one family will be celebrated with a dinner to be given in their honor by Mrs. Nannie Foresman at her home on the fifteenth of July. They are Mrs. Foresman's mother, Mrs. E. E. Winship; her son, John T. Winship, of Saginaw, Michigan, and her great-granddaughter, Charlotte Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Moore, of this city.

STOLEN AUTOS RECOVERED.

A Ford car stolen from in front of the fire department last Saturday night was found on the farm of Charles C. Lewis in Pickaway township. It had been stripped of all its tires and then was run down a twenty foot embankment into the river and abandoned. The car was the property of a farmer residing at South Perry.

The Ford car of Charles Reichelderfer, also stolen last Saturday night, was found abandoned on the Columbus pike near the farm of David Six. It had been wrecked when it came in contact with a telephone pole.

THE DRUNKEN DRIVER

Notwithstanding the alleged success of the prohibition law enforcement policy, the drunken automobile driver lamentably, and dangerously, continues to function as a menace to the lives of the public.

In England some things are better done than in America. England, too, is afflicted with the drunken driver, though not with prohibition. In that sovereignty society is protected by severer measures providing punishment for offenses against the traffic laws, and other misdemeanors involving the use of automobiles.

Under a new criminal justice act the "law of the road" greatly has been strengthened by stronger enforcement provisions. By way of illustration, the minimum penalty for drunken driving, for the first offense, is fixed at four months' imprisonment or a fine of approximately $250. It is true that arrested and convicted persons would pay the fine rather than go to jail for four months, but the drunken driver usually is a man who would find it difficult to meet such assessment; and in case of the well-to-do violator of the law in this respect, the penalties for second, third and more offenses soon would produce a salutary effect in respect to his dangerous delinquency.

Reckless driving is a bad thing, but drunken driving is altogether indefensible. It should be punished adequately and inexorably. Even the minimum of the new English law is all too little in consideration of the potential possibilities for evil of the drunken driver and his actual achievements in disastrous accident experience.

Congested streets and roads make the danger from this source one of ever-increasing peril. It should be eliminated—it can be eliminated when the law shall have been made sufficiently drastic.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Explains Presence of Frogs in Solid Rock

Imagine one's surprise to crack open a rock and find a frog imbedded within!

That is exactly what happened recently at Okanogan, Wash. At Sydney, New South Wales, a similar occurrence has caused considerable speculation in scientific circles. At the latter place the frog was found in rock ages old, while, at Okanogan, workmen, digging into the cemented gravel of a roadway, stumbled on a number of live frogs imprisoned there, says Mentor Magazine.

It is the belief of science that it is quite possible for a frog to live without food within a rock for a period of years. The creature from the amphibian set depends on his mysterious resources of hibernation and lives on his own tissues. It is also thought that it is possible for a frog's egg to hatch in a crevice and that the acid from the body of the frog is powerful enough to eat a hole in the rock large enough to hold him for quite a while.

Comparison Resented

Feminists are much annoyed because the English press is inclined to commend any woman who does anything well as having a "masculine mind."

The Evening Standard praised the duchess of Athol for her fluent speeches in the house and suggested that "it seems unnecessary for her to read her speeches, as she always has a very clear idea what she wants to say, wherein she is masculine, and quite unlike Lady Astor." It also suggested that "she is not the least bit excitable. In striking contrast to Miss Wilkinson."

RULER OF BARODA, SON OF HERDSMAN

Maharajah Gaekwar Has Governed Indian State for 50 Years.

Washington.—The gaekwar of Baroda has achieved a record. He has sat upon his throne for 50 years, an unusual term among Indian rulers in recent centuries. Therefore, Baroda has had a jubilee, climaxed by a great state dinner at which the important citizens of Baroda sat cross-legged on the floor of the palace audience hall with eastern vials before them, while the maharajah gaekwar sat alone at a table in a chair of state. The state over which the oddly titled ruler has presided for half a century is described in a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"Islands" on Dry Land.

"Baroda, one of the wealthiest of the Indian native states, is a group of 'islands' on dry land," says the bulletin. "Only prewar Prussia had more scattered dominions. There are four main divisions, but about each of the larger regions cluster small districts, and even separate villages that fairly pepper the territory of the Bombay presidency of British India, in which the gaekwar's 'islands' lie. There is probably a separate fragment of Barodan territory for each of the 50 years the gaekwar has ruled.

"The territories, which total 8,000 square miles, begin near the west coast of India, 150 miles north of Bombay city, and extend for 200 miles to the north. Other fragments are scattered off to the west on the Kathiwar peninsula, the most remote being 225 miles from Baroda City, the capital.

"Most of the state is level alluvium in a high state of cultivation. This is especially true of the region lying to the north of the capital. With its fields, well ordered hedges, and groves of trees, this section has much the appearance of English park land. Some of India's best cotton land is in Baroda, and the state has 25 gins and a cotton mill. Rice and wheat are raised, and a considerable area is devoted to poppy growing for the making of opium. Growers of poppy are licensed, and the handling of opium is a state monopoly.

"Baroda City has a population of 103,000. There, and in the vicinity, are the palaces of the gaekwar. The white stucco palace of Nazar Bagh is notable chiefly as the Barodan strong box. In it are stored the gaekwar's jewels, said to be worth $10,000,000. Among them is one of the world's famous diamonds, 'the Star of the South,' of 125 karats. Another unit of the collection is a cloth embroidered with precious stones and seed pearls. This was prepared for a Mohammedan ruler and was meant as a cover for the tomb of Mohammed.

"Four miles south of the city is the Makapura palace, the country place of the gaekwar. It is noted for its fine gardens, fountains, grottoes, and pergolas. The chief of the ruler's residences is the Lakshmi Vilas. In it is a huge Darbar hall around which are covered and screened wooden galleries from which the women of the gaekwar's menage may observe state functions without being seen.

"Leading off the main street of Baroda City are numerous 'wards,' each set aside for a separate caste or class. These are culs de sac, and across their entrances are heavy gates. In certain sections of the town English influences are noticeable. Baroda college has its cricket grounds, its tennis courts, and its gymnasium. Baroda spends more on public education than any other native state, maintaining public schools for both boys and girls. There are, even zenana classes for adult women who must remain in seclusion.

From Hut to Palace.

"The 2,500,000 inhabitants of Baroda belong predominantly to the Hindu faith, and the pinnacles of numerous Hindu temples pierce the skyline of the capital. The minority religions are not molested, and the gaekwar, in fact, patronizes one of the chief Mohammedan festivals.

"The life of the present gaekwar has been like that of the hero of a fairy tale. In 1875 the ruler of Baroda was accused of attempting to poison the British resident, and was deposed. He had no heir, so a search was made by the British government for a collateral relative. A young lad, the son of a humble herdsman, was chosen and was placed on the throne in 1876. It is he who is the present gaekwar.

"Baroda is important as well as wealthy. The gaekwar is one of only five Indian rulers entitled to receive a salute of 21 guns anywhere in India."

Helicopter Airplane

A professor at the Japanese Naval academy—Matsumura by name—has invented an airplane with a helicopter attachment which he thinks will do much toward making aviation safe. Sixteen wings, eight long ones and eight short ones, are attached to a rotating mast which, according to the announcement, will make it possible for the plane to rise without moving forward. Once in the air at the altitude desired, it can be directed horizontally in any direction merely by two rudders on a rotating pole. The inventor predicts that his machine will be as popular and common in Japan in ten years as the automobile is today.—Pathfinder Magazine.

BURNING LAKE AIDS FIELD OF BOTANY

Interesting Specimens Secured by Explorer.

Washington.—A lake which burns every year provided one of the strange collecting grounds in Costa Rica from which Dr. Paul C. Standley, botanist of the National Herbarium, under the direction of the Smithsonian Institution, has just brought back a collection of 11,738 plants.

The paradoxical burning lake is Arenal in Guanacaste province, in the northwest corner of Costa Rica. Although sixteen miles by four miles in area, and thirty feet deep in spots, Lake Arenal is so thickly grown over with a tall grass that it seems to be a level prairie. The grass dries below the tips every year, whereupon the Costa Ricans set fire to it, thereby furnishing what is probably the world's sole example of a burning lake.

The rich collection brought back by Doctor Standley as the result of four months' intensive work includes many new species and one new genus. This last is a tree closely related to the walnut and the hickory. Although the natives do not eat the nuts, they do use the wood. Since it is a fairly common tree in Costa Rica, the fact that it has not been described before is surprising.

Two New Potato Trees.

Doctor Standley also found two new kinds of the potato tree—Palo de Papa. This is an important timber tree, but it also produces a fruit, the kernel of which is very good to eat, tasting like coconut. The natives roast it like chestnuts and also grind it to make a meal. Doctor Standley has already described two kinds of this same genus from Mexico. There the kernel is used to furnish a black dye, and the Mexican name for the tree is Calatola, an Aztec word meaning "crow water," referring no doubt to its use as a dye.

Two thousand orchid specimens were included in Doctor Standley's haul. He collected these for Mr. Oakes Ames of Boston, orchid specialist, who financed the expedition. Costa Rica produces more varieties of orchids than any other section of this hemisphere, 1,000 different kinds having been described from that country.

Reaches Virgin Field.

Doctor Standley made collections from two regions which have never before been explored by botanists. The first of these was Dota, in southern Costa Rica, a mountainous region which includes a tableland at an elevation of 10,000 feet, the only one of its kind in Central America. It is a cold and wind-swept area characterized by grassland and low bushes. Animal life—birds, beasts and insects—is practically nonexistent there. The other unexplored region was Guanacaste province, a land of low elevation, extensively grazed by cattle.

Doctor Standley's expedition formed a part of the plan of the Smithsonian Institution to prepare a descriptive account of the plants of all of Central America, which will be of great importance to commerce as well as to science. Before the work can get properly under way extensive collections must be made in Honduras and Nicaragua, two regions which have scarcely been touched by botanists. Funds are needed for these explorations.

As a result of the two expeditions already made to Costa Rica, Doctor Standley is preparing a memoir on the plants of that country alone, which will be published by the Costa Rican government.

Jail Closed

Cripple Creek, Colo.—Once a roaring, wild mining camp of the old West, Cripple Creek, world-famous mining town, has closed its jail, because since prohibition there are no prisoners.

Aerial Torpedo Called Deadliest War Weapon

A new aerial torpedo has been invented by a New Zealand naval officer, which, controlled by radio, can overcome all interference and resistance by counter-radio currents. The British government has bought the invention. Experts declare that it gives Britain mastery of the air in addition to her supremacy on the waves. One of these torpedoes can destroy a city in 20 minutes, because it not only smashes all buildings but also exhales poison gas which does away with human, animal and plant life. With such weapons it is said war will become impossible because of their intense frightfulness. The same was said of machine guns, airplanes and tanks in the past. Somehow we have become used to them. One thing is certain. If the new invention is all that it is claimed to be, the war of the future will not last very long. There will be no enemy to talk over the terms of peace. All life will be exterminated. And the conqueror will have but an empty victory—emptier yet than Versailles, for instance.—Atlanta Constitution.

PHILOS LODGE
MEMORIAL ON NEXT SUNDAY

Girls' Band From Pythian Home at Springfield Will Furnish the Music.

Philos lodge, No. 64, Knights of Pythias, of Circleville, will on Sunday afternoon of June 13, again observe the beautiful custom of placing a flower upon the last resting place of its deceased members in a memorial service.

The placing of a flower and a sprig of myrtle upon the grave is emblematic of the friendship that bound Damon and Pythias, and is evidence of the renewal of the friendship which binds the members of the order, the one to the other.

The Knights of Ohio maintain two homes, both located at Springfield, Ohio, the one for the aged members and their wives the other for the orphaned and dependent children. Over two hundred and fifty boys and girls are now being cared for in the home for the children, being given the physical comforts and pleasures, also instruction in things spiritual as well as the opportunity to secure a high school education equal to that received by any other boy or girl in the state.

In this home there have been organized two bands, one of boys and one of girls. Philos lodge has secured the girls' band to furnish the music for the memorial services which will be held at Forest cemetery.

The parade headed by the girls' band followed by the members of the order will leave the Pythian castle at 2 o'clock and march to the cemetery where Rev. E. S. Toensmeier will deliver the memorial address.

The public is cordially invited to this service.

TENT MEETING IS ATTRACTING LARGE CROWD

The tent was practically packed to capacity Tuesday evening to listen to the sermon preached by Miss Irene Blue. Scripture lesson Revelation 21 Theme, "Christian Perfection."

When we think of Jesus we think of one who died that we might be saved from the guilt of sin and we stop short. Jesus shed His precious blood to do far more than that. He died not only to make Christians of sinners, but to make perfect Christians of Christians.

Jesus said; Be ye, therefore, perfect, even as your Father in heaven is perfect. "Now, I don't see why we should draw back from the doctrine of Christian perfection."

A perfect Christian will not hold a grudge against anybody. You will not only not do your enemy harm, but you will promote his best interests, if you can, and you won't forget to pray for him.

The blood of Jesus is our sanctification. Sanctification is for the Christian. A second definite work of grace, a cleansing, a washing, a purifying of the heart. He has stated the condition; "Present your bodies a living sacrifice." The condition is consecration, perfect and complete; the time is the present; the way is the blood; our part is faith, and then it is a work of the Holy Spirit.

Has the Holy Ghost wrought the second work in your heart? Get rid of carnality, have peace within and then you can fight a good outward battle. Christian friends, walk in the light. "Be ye perfect." "This is the will of God even your sanctification."

The crowds are continually growing, until we are not able to accommodate everyone. Place, corner Pickaway and Walnut streets; time, 8 p. m., each evening this week. Don't fail to hear this wonderful young ladies' quartet in their message of sermon and song.

Antedated Jazz

"Blue" songs had a vogue in the southern central states many years before jazz was known. The nature of the song is all that the name implies and is in the same category as the "spiritual" and the "blues" heard so frequently through the South.

AMUSEMENTS

LOIS WILSON IN
"THE VANISHING AMERICAN"

heart-appeal, of glorious action and of eternal romance.

"The Vanishing American," adapted for the screen by Lucien Hubbard and directed by George B. Seitz, treats of a subject near to the hearts of all of us—the passing of the Red Man. There is no part of American history that is more romantic, more interesting, more epochal in quality than the story of the first Americans—the Indians.

The story treats of the subject of the Red Man in his last stand against civilization in the same manner that the crossing of the western plains was handled by James Cruze in "The Covered Wagon." It is the most important production that has ever been attempted for the screen, made in the same sweeping manner as its former great companion productions, "The Covered Wagon," "North of 36," and "The Thundering Herd."

As a serial in the Ladies' Home Journal, "The Vanishing American" was one of the most valuable motion picture properties of the past ten years, and it has been given a production in keeping with its tremendous importance.

Those who have watched the record of Paramount in the production of epics of the Great West, will, after seeing "The Vanishing American" no longer question the ability of that organization to produce the greatest productions of this class to appear upon the screen.

WHAT PRICE SERVICE?

Do you measure the service you get on your Ford car by the Dollars and Cents you pay for it or by the satisfaction you receive? There are many Garages and Repair shops in the community, even tho they have good mechanics, do not have the special tools and equipment to give the kind of service that you, as a Ford owner, are entitled to. We repair Ford cars only and with the special tools and equipment and mechanics, with years of Ford experience, we can give you GENUINE FORD SERVICE and guarantee every repair job.

We use the Ford Flat Rate Schedule of repair charges which insures you genuine Ford service at a low cost. We are always ready to give you an estimate on any repair job and with our large stock of Genuine Ford Parts can give you immediate service.

Our ability to give satisfied service to Ford owners is one reason why over 50 per cent of automobiles sold in Pickaway county since January 1, have been Ford cars.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL TO OPEN MONDAY

The Daily Vacation Bible school sponsored by the Ministerial association of Circleville will open in the Franklin street school building Monday, June 14, at 9 o'clock. The sessions will be from 9 till 11:30, five days a week for four weeks. The co-operating churches have provided funds which makes this school possible. The school will be under the supervision of Miss Stewart, of Columbus, who is experienced in both public school and Daily Vacation Bible school work. A teaching staff has been very carefully chosen and will be on salary. It is possible in this four weeks to give as much religious instruction as is given in a whole year in Sunday school. It is not only a Bible school but a school which includes training in worship, community pride, health, and hand work. It teaches Christian principles thru doing.

Parents who are interested in all round development of their children will consider this school a real opportunity. Wherever these schools have been held the children are enthusiastic about them and each year larger schools are necessary to take care of the increased enrollment.

This school is open to any child in the community between the ages of four and fourteen. A tuition fee of fifty cents for the first child and twenty-five cents for each other child in a family will be charged. Enrollment should be made at once.

The following enrollment blank may be used:

It could hardly be called that.

Yet, many a time it has been said that it is a crime to let shoes go too long before having them resoled.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.
J. Cleve Rader will be a Democratic candidate for sheriff of Pickaway county at the primary August 10. Your support will be appreciated.
If successful at the primary and regular election, the voters and taxpayers of this county will see practiced one of the most rigid economical administrations possible.
With the assistance of the county's regularly elected legal advisers, he will cope with all affairs in a conscientious, courteous and efficient manner.
Mr. Rader is a married man, active and in the prime of life, and is physically capable of coping with any situation which might present itself in the discharge of his official duties.
His large acquaintance thruout the county is due to his knowledge of fairness, friendliness and being courteous to all. His fairness is indicated by his asking the Democratic voters of Pickaway county to consider all the aspirants to this office and then vote for whom they consider the best qualified.

YOU CAN'T HIDE A FARM IN A SAFE DEPOSIT BOX

"How much would you take for your farm?"
"It isn't for sale."
"Don't blame you! If I had it I wouldn't want to sell."
"Did you ever stop to think that you might be forced to sell or mortgage the place, to hand the money over to someone who was injured by one of your cars?"
"You know how crowded the highways are. You run the risk of accident every time one of your cars leaves the yard. I say you, because, no matter who may be driving the car at the time of the accident, you, as owner, will be the man held responsible."
"Right after an accident there is a distinct disadvantage in owning a prosperous farm. It cannot be conveniently hidden in a safe deposit box. It is evident to all who pass. As a consequence, if someone is injured by one of your cars, he's likely to say to himself; 'That fellow is good for any judgment I can get against him. I might as well ask for a large sum.' And suddenly you find yourself sued for $25,000 or $50,000."
Would you care to have a jury of twelve men, picked up here and there around the county, deciding whether or not you should keep your farm?
"Even if the claimant is not given all he asked, you would have been put to the great worry and expense of defending the suit; during which time your regular work is sure to suffer."
"Let me fix you up with Automobile insurance, which will protect your interests if an automobile damage suit is brought against you; pay the court and defense costs, if the case goes to court, and protect your farm, by paying the judgment up to the limits of your policy, if one is rendered against you."

x HARTMAN THEATER. x x x x x x x x x

Monday night, June 7, the Hartman Stock company introduces its new leading lady, Miss Ruth Shepley, in the leading role in Ina Claire's big comedy hit, "Grounds for Divorce."
Miss Shepley comes direct from New York where she has been playing on Broadway for many seasons. Her most recent Broadway production was in "Cape Smoke" at the Martin Beck theater where she was featured with James Rennie (Dorothy Gish's husband). It ran the entire last season on the Great White Way. She was the only featured player in "The Backslapper," which ran an entire season in New York and has received her theatrical training under two of the most prominent Broadway banners—with George M. Cohan and with David Belasco. Miss Shepley had the leading role in Cohan's "Two Fellows and a Girl," in "Adam and Eve," played seventy weeks on Broadway in Belasco's "The Boomerang." Miss Shepley is one of the most beautiful actresses of Broadway and will win many new friends and admirers during her stay in Columbus this summer.

Her debut in Columbus will be the leading role in "Grounds for Divorce," playing the part which Ina Claire starred in, opposite Donn Cooke. It is a part that will give her an excellent opportunity to introduce herself to Columbus. Donn Cooke will have an excellent role as the young divorce lawyer. Every other member of the company will be seen in other good roles, and it is predicted that "Grounds for Divorce" will be one of the most popular plays of the season.
Dancing in the foyer begins a half hour before the play and continues during intermissions. On matinee days, the orchestra plays a half hour after the end of the play. Matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

CITIZENS' MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

Columbus, June 8—With more than four thousand applications received for the Citizens' Military Training Camps, the Fifth Corps Area last week reached its quota of young men to be trained in the three camps this summer. Due to the fact that the War Department allows a maximum quota of six thousand applications, enrollment of applicants from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia will continue until the opening of the camps, it was announced.

Scores of letters received at corps headquarters requesting that additional time be allowed to enroll, resulted in General Robert L. Howze, corps commander, lifting the time limit for accepting applications, originally set at June 1. The first camp does not open until July 7, at Camp Knox, Ky., and the two others July 15 at Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Applications for the thirty day outing will be accepted from young men 17 to 24 years of age who can pass the physical, mental and moral tests prescribed by the War Department. All expenses of the month are paid by the Government, including food, uniforms, laundry service and railroad fare to and from the camps.

SUGGESTS HOW TO FIND SAFETY DURING TORNADO

Southwest Corner of the Basement
About the Best Shelter When Twister Is Approaching.

Harrisburg, Ill.—While no place in the path of a tornado is safe, as a rule a person is safer inside a building than outside.

Scientists attending the annual meeting of the Illinois State Academy of Science here were told this by Prof. Frank H. Colyer of the Southern Illinois State Normal university. The data by Professor Colyer was compiled after a close study of the tri-state tornado, which swept through Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

"A person is safer in some building," he said, "because the air is literally full of violently whirling missiles of various kinds. Many of these are splintered timbers from destroyed buildings that may at any moment be thrust through the body."

"In other cases a person may be struck by the rapid movements of any kind of debris in the air. In case the building has a basement, the southwest corner of this basement is generally a safer place to be than the rooms above the ground. In this case, however, one should keep away from the stove or furnace with a fire in it. A number of persons were burned to death while pinned beneath fallen debris which were near a furnace or stove."

"If there is a room with a strong box, steel bed, or exceptionally strong table, it is well to lie flat on the floor near such an object, for it will often hold up a fallen ceiling or roof sufficient to save a person from being crushed. Many people came out of completely wrecked buildings, because they had presence of mind enough to place themselves in such a position."

Sometimes hallways, where the walls are near together may be safer than large rooms, where there is nothing to break the force of a falling roof or ceiling.

"If a person sees the funnel-shaped cloud of a tornado at a considerable distance he may drive an auto, or a pedestrian may run fast enough to escape. In that case it is better to run, or drive, northward, since the center of the destructive path northward is less than from the center to the south."

New Idea for Organ

Prof. Max Meyer of the University of Missouri has invented an organ, with which it is possible to play music written upon a scale of twenty-four tones instead of the usual twelve. The tip of each key is detached on the instrument and when depressed produces a tone halfway between that of the key of which it seems a part and the next lower one.

Famous Old Timepiece

Said to be the oldest working timepiece in England, the famous old clock of Rye parish church has been repaired by the generosity of golfers all over the world. One of the finest golf courses in England is at Rye, and many Americans who have played there answered an appeal for money to restore the old timepiece. It was erected in 1515. The pendulum, which may be seen swinging within the church, is 20 feet long. Cannon balls are used for weights.

Ornamental Glass Meets With Favor

A new sort of building and ornamental glass that was discovered by an eastern company through a slight variation in the process for manufacturing polished plate glass is increasing favor with architects and builders. Before the new glass was made available through dealers it was tested directly by the main organization of the company. Several installations were made in office buildings, stores, public buildings and religious edifices.

The new glass differs from ordinary plate in having a slightly wrinkled semiopaque surface. It breaks up and diffuses light rays, spreading illumination even more than polished plate. Its chief use is in office partitions and doors and in opaque but translucent screens. In decoration it has turned a new leaf in the book of glass possibilities. Designs can be etched, miltred or sand blasted on it with excellent effect, the natural appearance of the glass affording the finest of backgrounds.

Happy Wedlock Sure Thing If Bride Is Cook

By KATHRYN ST. JOHN

Haphazard meals yearly ruin thousands of marriages. Most marital ships would maintain an even keel if brides knew cooking.

Many of the first year's troubles between newlyweds would be avoided if the wife were capable of preparing foods with an experienced hand. Wives are to blame for the failure of many business men in the final analysis. The business man's health depends a great deal on what he eats. And it's up to his wife to see that he gets the right kind of food. A healthfully balanced diet goes a long way toward making the tired business man less fatigued.

The expert home manager sees to it that her husband never comes home to a delicatessen lunch. There is a carefully planned meal waiting for him. The real housewife knows that an unbalanced diet means trouble and avoids it. Likewise, she appreciates the fact that variation in her menus is important. In this connection the following recipes have been selected as an aid to the home manager:

Frozen Salad.

1/2 cup mayonnaise 1/2 cup candied dressing cherries
1/2 cup diced pine- 1/2 cup diced apple bananas
4 tbsp. pineapple 2 tbsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup cream 1/2 cup evaporated milk
Mix the fruit and juices. Combine milk and cream, chill and whip; then fold in the fruit and mayonnaise. Pour into a mold and pack in equal parts of salt and ice. Serve on lettuce leaves. This serves eight.

Orange Bavarian.

1 tbsp. gelatin 2-3 cup evaporated 1/4 cup cold water milk
1 cup orange juice 1-3 cup whipping 3 tbsp. lemon juice cream
1/4 tsp. salt 1/2 cup sugar
Soak gelatin in cold water, add fruit juices, sugar and salt. Heat in the top of a double boiler until gelatin dissolves. Strain and set in pan of cold water. When mixture begins to set, fold in the evaporated milk and cream which have been beaten stiff.

Banana Ice Cream.

6 very ripe 2 cups evaporated bananas milk
1/2 cup lemon juice 2 cups cream
2 1/4 cups sugar 1/4 tsp. salt
Scrape off adhering fibrous portion on surface of peeled bananas. Mash and rub through a sieve. Add the rest of the ingredients in the order given and stir until all are well blended. Let stand for 20 minutes so that all sugar may dissolve. Freeze in a 1 to 6 salt-ice mixture. This recipe makes 1/2 gallon cream.

U. S. SUPREME COURT DECISIONS AND ADJOURNMENT

Washington, June 7.—(UP.)—The U. S. supreme court today reversed an Oklahoma supreme court decision which upheld that state's tax on zinc and lead ore produced by the Jaybird Mining Company, Ottawa County, Okla., on Quapaw Indian land leased to the company by the federal government. The tax, an ad valorem levy on ore in bins on the first day of the year was held by the company to be unconstitutional because the federal government held jurisdiction over the lands from which it was produced. The court today upheld this contention.

Edward F. Goltra, St. Louis, Mo., today lost in the U. S. supreme court his suit to prevent the United States from taking back 19 Mississippi river freight barges and four tow boats leased to him in 1919.

George Remus, noted Cincinnati wholesale bootlegger, today was denied a review by the U. S. supreme court of his conviction and one year jail sentence under the nuisance clause of the Volstead act, imposed at the same term of court as the two year sentence at Atlanta for conspiracy which he has already completed.

Franklin E. Kerr, Los Angeles, convicted of using the mails to send poison candy to his wife, Lulu F. Kerr, at Filmore, California, today was denied a review by the U. S. supreme court. Kerr, who was given a five year federal prison sentence, alleged in his appeal that the trial court erred in allowing his wife to testify against him.

Chief Justice Wm. Howard Taft was absent from today's meeting of the U. S. supreme court because of a slight illness. It was the first session he has missed in several years.

The California auto stage and truck transportation act requiring truck owners operating under private contract to obtain permits from the state railroad commission was held unconstitutional by the U. S. supreme court today. The case, appealed by M. L. and W. H. Frost, who were operating between Redlands, California and Los Angeles harbor, was regarded as being of paramount importance to the entire automobile industry because the law went further than that of any other state in regulation of traffic over its highways.

The court adjourned today for four months, ending its 1925 term without handing down decisions in the most important Mal Daugherty, Myers postmaster-ship, Chemical foundation and the Ruthenberg and Whitney syndicalism cases.

OHIO IS WELL FIXED FOR LENDING MONEY

Has Many Banks, National and State, Industrial Lenders and Building Associations.

Columbus, June 8.—Ohio has 363 national banks, 740 state banks and approximately 200 industrial lending organizations, according to a compilation made here today, showing that the state is well supplied with financial institutions. No man of character, it was declared, whether he possesses thousands or owns only the furniture in his home, need have any difficulty in obtaining ready money when he needs it. In this connection it was pointed out that only about 15 per cent of the people have banking credit. For those not having banking credit, industrial lending organizations have been established. These limit their loans to $300 and accept only chattels as security. They operate under the Lloyd act, Ohio being the first state in the Union to pass a small loan law.

In addition to the national and state banks, there are 854 building and loan associations, and farmers also have an opportunity to obtain funds, under certain conditions, from the farm loan banks. It has been found however, that for small sums many of them have turned to the industrial lending organizations, which work in close harmony with the Russell Sage Foundation of New York.

Class of 1926 Graduated--
Splendid Program and Inspiring Class Address.

It is seldom that one sees so pretty a picture as the fifty-three graduates in the class of 1926, as they appeared at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening. The stage setting could not be improved upon. Bunches of peonies in the shades of the school colors, red and white, showed in their loveliness, but back of the floral display, sat the graduates, the hope of Circleville, the flower of the city's hopes. In front was an audience of beaming faces, relatives and friends who had come with that family pride to see their daughters and sons as the public was to acclaim them as priceless, finished products of this city's educational system. The graduates were happy and their faces shone with the light of ambition. The members of the board of education felt that they had done their duty as officials, when they witnessed such a fine array of graduates.

Miss Mary Walters, who made the salutatory address, voiced the sentiment of the commencement. This class, she said, is like a newly built ship, ready to be launched on its way down to the sea of life, bound for the port, "Success." One or two may drop out of the race, some may sink and some may strike a snag; but those who keep a straight course will win. Keep to the right and you will reach the fair harbor of "Success."

The valedictorian, Miss Marian Hitler, voiced the thoughts of her classmates in her farewell, that word farewell, we breathe it tenderly, we breathed it earnestly, with feeling and in a tone that dispelled affectation. She bid farewell for the class, to the teachers, the board of education and the associations of long standing. She hoped that down thru the years, these pleasant moments and associations will not be forgotten. They are rich in our affections and as the voices become fainter and fainter on the highway of life, we will ever thank those who pointed to us the right way to go; and in bidding you farewell, we hope that your thoughts of us will always be as pleasant, as ours are of you.

The sixty-eighth annual commencement of the Circleville public schools is now history and the fifty-three members of the graduating class have started out in quest of successful achievement in life's work. Here's hoping that their fondest hopes may be realized.

The class address was made by L. A. Peckstein, dean of education of the University of Cincinnati. In introducing him, Superintendent Eagleson said the speaker was a native Missourian, but had come to Ohio, and to this city with a message for the graduates and the public.

The speaker dwelt on "Character." Among other things, he said that character is individual, inborn, innate. It is given us by nature and inheritance, an inner spiritual edifice, the immortal child of God.

It is the distinct character that wins. This class blessed with the intelligence that nature has given so lavishly, has gone thru twelve years schooling. Some have become discouraged and dropped out and have joined the crowd of ne'er-do-wells. Those who have remained have the basis of a sound mind in a sound body. Nature has done well by you and society has been busy shaping your character.

Is youth dropping in the quest for higher things? Human nature is no worse now, and not a whit better, than it was before the World war. The youth of today is just as strong, just as clean and more honest than it was a decade or a score of years ago. Society receives what it demands. Family, church, schools and community, all help towards shaping and moulding character.

When you make up your mind to do right a character is made in reality. Be honest and truthful in life, if your wish to make a success. It does not pay to be narrow, mean and selfish. Never give up until the goal you have set has been reached. Character does not grow in a vacuum, but it grows and develops each day in school and now in the outer world, make your tomorrow better than today.

The average age of the graduating class of 1926, up to the day of graduation was 17 years, ten months and 23 days. It is 41 days younger than the class of 1925, 43 days younger than that of 1924, and 48 days younger than the class of 1923.

The class is nearly evenly divided; there was 27 boys and 26 girls. The oldest boy was 20 years, five months and nine days; youngest girl, 16 years and 17 days.

Twenty-eight members of the class have signified their intention and have made arrangements to attend either a higher school of learning, or a college, and 22 days; oldest girl 20 years, two months and 25 days.

Class Song
(Words by Ruth Holman)

Looking back on days of pleasure
School days wander thru our minds,
And friends and chums have separated
Gone or stayed behind.

Oh, many times we wonder whether Better times could e'er be had.
Now we see the past so golden
And the present rather sad.

Oh, the best were the days in high school—
Days in good old C. H. S.
Memories of the silent class room
Come back thronging all to bless.

Oh, why can't we have them all over—
Those grand old days that have gone
Like the winds that blow over the desert?
They blow on and on.

They've gone from our life so quickly
Like the sun climbing toward the noon
The midday of our life is over—
School days vanished all too soon.
